December 21st is the Official First Day of Winter!

Did You Know? December 21st, 2020 is the Official First Day of Winter. This December 21st is the Winter Solstice and also the GREAT CONJUNCTION of Jupiter and Saturn will occur...where the 2 planets will appear aligned and become visible in the evening sky in the Northern Hemisphere. This has not happened since May 2000. Today also marks the 24- hour period with the fewest daylight hours of the year or also known as the shortest day of the year, or the longest night of the year.

Have a
Great Day
